TEACHING AHEAD

As the spring semester comes to a close, we hope that you have taken advantage of opportunities to develop your teaching skills. A friendly reminder to refer to the IPTeC website regularly for ongoing teaching opportunities. We encourage you to look to your teaching mentors and your IPTeC cohort for support to fulfill your requirements.

The impact of COVID-19 school disruptions on children's learning

National health policies to stop the spread of the COVID-19 virus in the US resulted in widespread school closures and disrupted learning in Spring 2020. Four years later, this study examines education outcomes for students ages 5 - 12 at the start of the pandemic.

TEACHING PORTFOLIO UPDATES

OUT WITH THE OLD AND IN WITH THE NEW

The teaching log for 2023 - 2024 has officially been updated. You can access the new teaching log on the IPTeC website. The previous teaching log has been phased out in order to make the teaching log easier to complete for participants in the certificate program. The new teaching log uses an excel sheet to capture participants' teaching experiences. When filling out the sheet, please use the drop down menu items where prompted. Subtotals and total progress will be visible as you enter in teaching information. Please reach out if you have any questions while complete your teaching log.
